SENIOR "PROGRESS"

September 8, 1942, is an important date long to be remembered by the members of the class of '46 for it marked the enrollment day of their entry into high school. However the "wind was taken out of their sails" as they had to face their first three years of high school life during World War II.

Although the war was in a critical stage for the allies, initiation week, which was the first week of school, helped to build up the morale of the school by furnishing the students with a few thrills and excitement for a change. Although being war-time students, the officers under the sponsorship of Mrs. Wiggins and Mrs. Brown guided the class with flying colors. They were Frank Stassek, William Thomas, Michael Sofranko, and Barbara Garber. The activities of the year were the class parties and freshman convo in the spring. During summer vacation, many students went to work at war jobs.

Losing only seven classmen, the members of the class started their sophomore year quite vigorously. This year, John Walczak, William Coulter, Robert Papka, and Charles Hodges held the class offices with Mr. Baliff and Miss Hartley as sponsors. By this time, the members of the class were well acquainted with high school life. January 18 and May 8 were the dates of the class parties--the latter being a Hobo-Round-Up--as bums they surely filled the bill of affair. This year, the class proved what successful salesmen it had by excelling the other classes in selling magazines and was rewarded with a U. S. flag, which hangs on the back wall of the study hall.

Attaining the ranking of upper classmen as juniors in September, 1944, Peter Shakula, Steve Longazo, Pauline Millender, and Betty Demo following John Walczak as treasurer, were chosen for leadership of the class. Following the important job of ordering the class rings, the class gave a series of picture shows and dances along with the class play entitled "Girl Shy," which was one of the best performances of Edison's dramatic world and helped to put the finances of the class over the top. May 12 was the night of the Prom given by the juniors in Marquette Pavilion, with the music furnished by Reynold Young's Orchestra.

Finally, as dignified seniors, the class entered its last active school year and carried on its tradition of dances after the basketball games. April 10 was another night of the dramatic world when the members of the cast presented the class play which was entitled "You'll Die Laughing." The members of the class were the privileged guests at the Junior-Senior Prom given in the Crystal Ballroom in Hotel Gary on May 17. The closing and most important events for the Class of '46 were the Baccalaureate Service on May 19 and Commencement on May 22. The members of the class bade their farewell to Edison by presenting their Class Day Program on the last day of school, May 24, 1946.

THE FUTURE '46

Seated in a cave upon a cliff in 1956, the Wise Eagle sits, peering into his crystal ball, and sees the Class of 1946 passing on parade. Oh! Wise One, what has this class accomplished in ten years of absence from those halls?

Very faintly, a vision appears--a stage, an orchestra, and a violinist standing before the footlights. He is none other than Michael Sofranko, conductor of this famous group of musicians. A radio studio appears in place of the first scene. The "Hoosier Honeys," singers of sweet mountain ballads, are on the air. Mary Ledak, Carolyn Harbison, and Mary Jane Rains make up the trio.

Back in Indiana! Doran Myers and James Sievern are the chief custodians of the Gary school system. Donald Bonomo is serving a customer as he is in charge of his father's cafe. Just across the line in the Blue Grass State, during Kentucky Derby-time, appears Robert Papka preparing his thoroughbred for the big race.

Ah, a newspaper appears! Betty Demo, formerly star reporter for the Chicago Tribune, is in Reno for the third time. Rumored! She has her eyes on the millionaire playboy, Steve Longazo. Ah! look at that staff: Joseph Gustafson, sports writer; and Clifton McChesney, famous cartoonist.

On to the cinema capital! Lauren Lamour strolls down Hollywood Boulevard--Helena Ronk never did fall for mink coats and slacks, but one must keep up with the styles. Richard Dreyovich and Charles Hodges are the directors specializing in horror films.

Next is an exclusive women's shop, the Burchardt-Sisson Fashion Center. Barbara Garber and Pauline Millender are modeling the latest styles in women's gowns.

Back home again, in Room 302 at Edison! De Yette Goetze is teaching those green freshmen their geometric theorems. Ruth Baker is manager of the Girls' Club Vail, and how those girls can play ball. Ah! the drugstore, the beloved hang-out where Edith Babarik is cashier. A new line of ultra-modern theaters are in full swing under the management of the three Bills--Brown, Coulter, and Tanner.

The scene is shifting to the nation's capital! Clyde Vogel, who was senior treasurer, is Comptroller of Currency. Congratulations Pete! Our former junior and senior president is President of our Country, and Marie Munro is his secretary. In conclusion, this visionary trip was certainly worthwhile. Good Work, Class of '46!

FAREWELL

Through four years of hard work, I finally attained my goal.

It has been a great pleasure to work with the students and faculty of Edison.

I deem the four years of my high school life the most important of my entire life. I have come in contact with many different kinds of people--really different kinds.

From my experience during four years of high school life I have learned that nothing can be attained with the help of just a few--it must be through the co-operation of all. It is up to you, the builders of Edison, to co-operate and strive to attain that goal of success.

I sign my inscription with the belief in my heart that you, the builders will co-operate and travel that road to success.

I bid my affectionate farewell to all.

Peter Shakula

CLASS of 1947

What do you know? After two long years of high school life, the members of the Junior Class finally made the rank of upper classmen.

The Junior Class proved to be the one to start the activities in motion at the beginning of the school year. They celebrated Thanksgiving with a turkey raffle and followed up their activities of money-making affairs with a large sale of Edison pins. The students really advertised their school as they wore those good-looking pins. The juniors' next big thrill of the year was the selection of their class rings. The officers of the class proved themselves "little but mighty" in guiding their class under the sponsorship of Mrs. Crisman.

The first of the two most important events of the school year was the class play entitled "Socially Ambitious." The members of the cast, under the direction of Mr. Whitcomb, furnished the audience an evening of enjoyable entertainment and lots of laughs.

The final important event long to be remembered in years to come was the Junior-Senior Prom which was given by the juniors in the Crystal Ballroom in Hotel Gary on May 17.

CLASS of 1948

Believe it or not, the sophomores have passed the stage of being "freshies."

They encountered no real difficulty in getting "inside the ropes," as one might say, and organizing their program the first of September as they found their curriculum "pretty well cut and dried" in order to meet the state requirements for graduation.

Being different from the freshmen and seniors, the young ladies of the class proved themselves to be modernistic by breaking the rule "the male always rules" and holding their share of the offices of the class. Miss Hartley and Mr. Baliff rendered their services as class sponsors and really kept "the ball rolling" at the class party each semester.

The class has been represented in all forms of school and student activities throughout the entire year. As the school year drew to a close, the members of the class made the resolution to come back next year and do their part to make E. H. S. a bigger and better school by making plans for starting their junior year "with a bang."

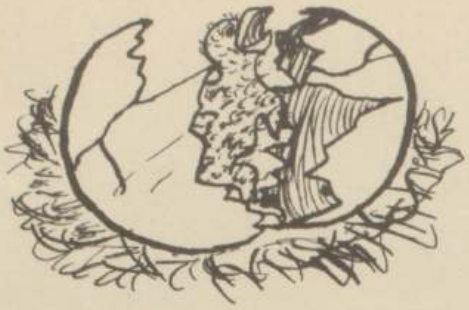
CLASS of 1949



"Green as grass" was the title attached to the freshmen as they entered the halls of Edison. However, that expression soon became a phrase of the past after the members of the class underwent the initiation imposed upon them by the upper classmen, and they gradually fitted themselves into the regular routine and took part in the activities of Edison High. Really, the class by means of the initiative of its members proved itself different from others before the year finally came to a close.

The class was guided throughout the year by a group of competent male officers with Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Whitcomb as sponsors. Being quite energetic, they assured themselves of receiving their quota of parties for the year and were the originators of a series of Saturday Night dances for the purpose of providing a place of entertainment for the high school students.

Now, the "freshies" are on their way up the ladder of education to be ideal sophomores of good "ole" E. H. S.

OUR LAND OF OPPORTUNITY

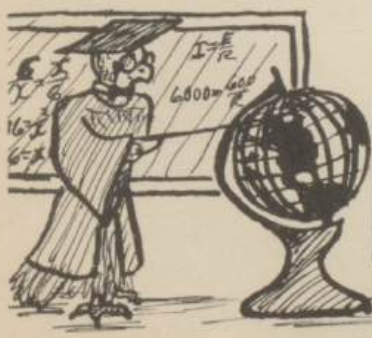
Just last year, the world was still in a state of misery and destruction. This is the first graduating class to enter a world of peace since the war began in 1939. Of course, our own Country did not enter the war until two years later; nevertheless, after six years of horror and needless killing and destruction, the war did come to an end.

All of us have had to make sacrifices during the war, and America is still feeling the effects of that bitter struggle. It will take industry quite some time to make the transition back to a normal pre-war level.

It is up to every one of us to help bring back that standard and to keep it. These are the most crucial days. During the war, all efforts were given to ending and winning the war, but today we are faced with a far more serious problem of preventing a third world crisis. We have seen what two world wars have done to the earth and its people, and we know that a third one would mean complete annihilation.

So, we, the students of Edison must prove ourselves as good and loyal citizens of our School and Country. Edison, working together with America can help maintain our schools and our Country as the "Land of Opportunity" with liberty and justice for all.

Classes of Edison



KNOWLEDGE

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

The familiar words, "Let's get ready for dictation," are heard in the shorthand room from day to day. Following the dictation, the clicking of typewriter keys can be heard. The preceding is just a brief description of our "hustle bustle" commercial department which consists of shorthand, typewriting, office practice, and bookkeeping, the latter being offered every other year. Miss Hartley has been in charge of the department for a number of years.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Since patriotic citizens must be loyal to their local, state, and national government, Edison students lay the foundation by taking social science courses which consist of civics, economics, United States history, and ancient history. The instructors as to their respective classes are Mr. Bailey, Mr. Baliff, and Mrs. Brown.

"Stop! Look! Listen!" are the words which all the students in safety classes are required to learn for their own good as well as that of mankind. Mr. Bailey instructs the classes this year.

HOME ECONOMICS

The girls of the home economics classes take sewing and cooking, with the main hope of becoming good housekeepers in the future. At any rate, their future husbands will know whether or not the girls learned the art of homemaking. Mrs. Whitcomb has charge of the department this year.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

Since it is essential that a person speak and write good English, every student of Edison takes at least three years of English. Mrs. Crisman is in charge of the department and is assisted by Miss Ardashier who teaches junior English.

The Latin class is also under the direction of Mrs. Crisman.

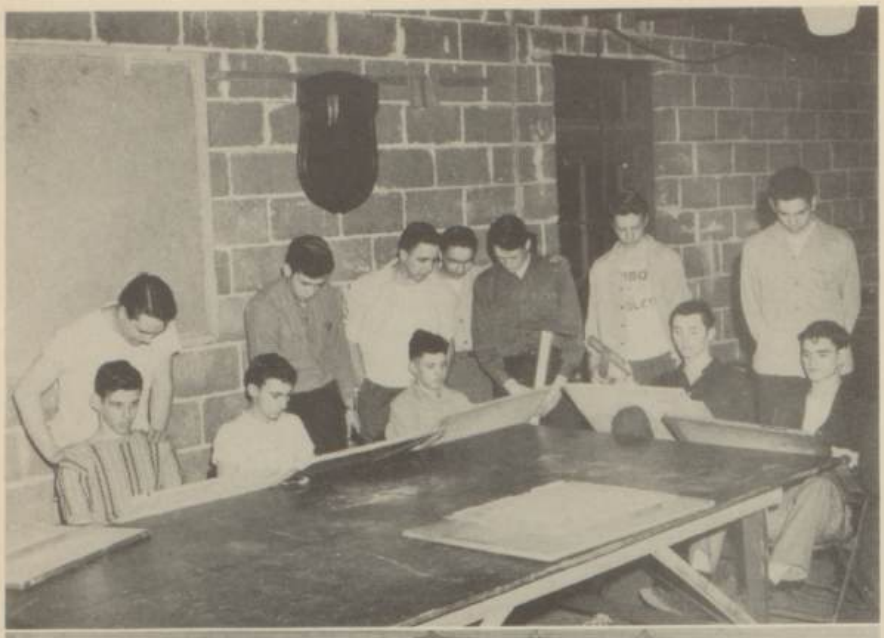
MATHEMATICS

Geometry, algebra, advanced algebra, commercial arithmetic, and general mathematics are the subjects of which the mathematics department is composed. A new course called trigonometry is offered for the first time the second semester. Mr. Whitcomb is the mathematics instructor.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

Protoplasm, doldrums, annular, evanescent, translucent, ergs—don't be bewildered as these are just a few of the "fancy" words used in Edison's science classes. The science department consists of areonautics, physics, biology, and chemistry, the latter which is offered every two years. The instructors are Mr. Stroube, Mr. Brubaker, Mrs. Brown, and Mrs. Whitcomb.

For some good reason the State Department of Indiana requires a course in health as part of the high school program. Mr. Brubaker, succeeding Mr. Stroube, took over the job of teaching the health classes the second semester.



MECHANICAL DRAWING

The boards in the picture appear as though they might be bread boards, but they are none other than drawing boards of the mechanical drawing students, who hope to be future engineers. The class under the direction of Mr. Weber is held in the evening.

"Okay, boys, let's get in line—one, two, three, four. . ." The boys in the physical education classes encounter calisthenics each week, after which the remainder of the time is spent in playing basketball under the direction of Mr. Baliff. The course is known as the "Best" by the boys.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

From freshmen to seniors, the girls keep trim under the direction of Mrs. Whitcomb in physical education classes each week. Basketball, Indiana's favorite sport, seems to earn that title even among the "weaker sex."

THE MUSIC DEPARTMENT, which is pictured in the activities section, consists of the band, girls' chorus, and boys' chorus. Miss Ardashier had charge of the department the first semester. After Mr. Brubaker returned from Service at the beginning of the second semester, he became band director, and Miss Ardashier continued as vocal instructor.

ATHLETICS

Standing: Mr. Baliff, Edwin Donovan, Robert Lannom, William Brown, William Coulter, Robert Papka, Paul Husarik.
Seated: Wesley Arington, Ernest Benedict, Donald Bonomo, Joseph Gustafson, William Crago.

VARSITY

Every team has its "off season." Edison has been quite fortunate since this year was the first "off season" record for Coach Baliff's team in twelve years. The Eagles won three of their sixteen scheduled games this season, and failed to win a game on their home floor.

One of the chief reasons for the Eagles not achieving the record of former years was the fact that eight of the members of the Varsity were graduated last year--leaving only William Crago and William Brown, having some experience on the team for this year. Crago led the team in scoring with 135 points, while Brown took most of Edison's rebounds.

The Eagles deserved commendation for their team work in the sectionals at Hammond, as they were matched against the Wildcats of Hammond in their first game, and lost 60-28 to a team which out-weighed them in size.

Five senior members received sweaters at the close of the school year: William Brown, William Coulter, Robert Papka, Donald Bonomo, and Joseph Gustafson.

B TEAM

The Edison B Team finished the season with a record of seven victories and nine defeats. If the team could have won just one more game, the season's record would have been .500. Earl Cooper was the leading scorer with 69 points. The over-all balance of the team enabled it to win its seven games.

FRESHMAN TEAM

For the first time since 1941, Coach Baliff organized a Freshman Team, which completed a ten-game schedule. The team entered the Freshman Tourney at Merrillville and beat Calumet in the first game, but lost to William A. Wirt in the second round of the tournament. The team won four and lost six of its ten scheduled games.

BASEBALL TEAM

As the Lake-Porter Conference season was changed from fall to spring of the year, the baseball team had two seasons this year.

The Eagles opened their season last fall, with a lop-sided 35 to 3 win over Wheeler, then failed to win a game until the last one of the season with Merrillville. The team took two defeats from Merrillville and Dyer, and went on record with only two victories and four defeats for the season; thus, the Eagles did not rank as former teams under the direction of Coach Baliff. William Crago led the team with a high batting average of 579 points.

Since Coach Baliff will lose only two players--Donald Bonomo and Joseph Gustafson--at the close of the season, the team should prove to be a champion next year.

E MEN'S CLUB

The E Men's Club was founded in the fall of 1939 by Coach Doyle Baliff and Assistant Coach Harold Weber. It has just completed its seventh year as an athletic association in Edison High School.

The purpose of this club is to promote athletics and a spirit of true sportsmanship in Edison High School. All of the club's members have earned a major letter in either baseball, basketball, or track during the school year. A member is not required to earn a letter every year but must remain in good standing in athletics. The club consisted of thirty-four members this year.

Mr. Baliff, coach of Edison High School, has sponsored the club each year since it was organized. Club officers for this year were as follows: William Brown, president, Donald Bonomo, vice-president; Earl Cooper, secretary-treasurer.

EAGLE FEATHERS

Priding itself on getting the paper out regularly, the Eagle Feathers staff of 1945-46 was the ninth group of seniors to undertake the task of furnishing Edison with a school paper.

Under the guidance of Miss Hartley and Mrs. Crisman as sponsors, Mary Jane Rains held the office of Editor, with Peter Shakula as her able assistant. New features introduced this year were an inquiring reporter and a constructive criticisms column.

The paper was supported this year, as usual, by the advertisements of our merchants, and we wish to take this opportunity to express our appreciation of thanks to them.

EDISON COMMERCIAL CLUB

Composed of fifty senior and junior students, the Edison Commercial Club of 1945-1946 marks the seventh anniversary of this group at Edison. After the club was organized, a first semester party, an indoor affair, was held in Edison Building, and a fine time was enjoyed by all who were present.

Valentine's Day was celebrated by the club going to a trial in Lake Superior Court No. 3. This tour proved to be quite interesting and furnished the students with a wider knowledge of law and court proceedings.

Again on March 14, members of the club had the opportunity of hearing Miss Williams from the U. S. Employment Office in Gary, who spoke on the subject of "Job Opportunities." During the month of April, Mr. Edgar J. Caul, an attorney-at-law, discussed the subject of law which every individual should know. Another important subject to students entering the business field was the talk on the principles of successful salesmanship in May. The Club concluded another successful year with a beach party.

The officers--Ruth Baker, president; Marie Munro, vice-president; Alyce Osberg, secretary; Betty Ramsay, treasurer--guided the club under the direction of Miss Hartley, who was the original organizer of the club.

SUNSHINE SOCIETY

The Edison chapter of the Sunshine Society was installed October 29, 1934, by Miss Hilda Eshelman. Mrs. Dana Brown served as sponsor this year from September 28 through the month of December.

Accompanied by Mrs. Brown, the following girls attended the District V Convention at Merrillville, on October 15: Pauline Millender, Marion Bottos, Jeanette Munro, Marie Munro, Patricia Crowley, De Yette Goetze, and Doris Gray.

A beautiful and very impressive Mother-Daughter Initiation Reception for the Freshman girls was held the first of November.

During the year, the Sunshine Society sent its annual contribution to the Riley Fund and gave a donation to the Community Chest fund. According to the custom established in 1941, the girls put up the usual Christmas decorations in the halls for the purpose of helping to create a real Christmas atmosphere around the building. Also, the girls sang carols in the halls on Friday before Christmas.

The following officers were in charge of the organization: Pauline Millender, president; Marion Bottos, vice-president; Jeanette Munro, secretary; Shirley Sisson, treasurer.

The girls concluded their activities for the year by sending five girls as delegates to the state convention at Decatur High School on April 6.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Girls' Athletic Association, composed of sixty-nine girls who were interested in sports, has completed its seventh year at Edison High School.

A dance, with music furnished by a four-piece orchestra, was the G.A.A.'s first activity early in the year.

The annual initiation week and party were held in February, and thirty new members--mostly freshmen--were added to the membership list. After each girl performed the tasks assigned her by the "big sisters," she became a full-fledged member after proving herself a "good sport."

All girls, who earned 250 points by participating in the various games and exercises outside of physical education classes were entitled to letters. Joyce Davis, Yvonne Muzio, Dolores Schwager, Dorothy Bakalski, Frances Hodge, Phyllis Hodge, and Norma Crowley received letters this year, while other girls received monograms.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Whitcomb, the following officers were in charge of the association: Dolores Schwager, president; Dorothy Bakalski, vice-president; Charlyne Smith, secretary; Janie Eubank, treasurer. The sportheads were Joyce Davis, volleyball; Anna Honkoski, basketball; Yvonne Muzio, dancing; Pauline Husarik, miscellaneous; Frances Hodge, bicycling; Norma Crowley, bowling; Phyllis Hodge, skating; Pauline Millender, hiking; Ruth Baker, baseball.

BAND

The Edison High School Concert Band began its eighth school year under the direction of Miss Margaret Ardashier. The first semester, the band made appearances at the Central Edison P.T.A. Carnival, a school pep session, and the Armistice Day program.

On January 21, the first day of the second semester, Mr. Bruce Brubaker, who organized the band originally, returned to Edison as band director after three and one-half years in the service of his Country.

The band made its first appearance under the baton of Mr. Brubaker at the Annual Band Boosters Tea on February 26. Joining forces with the Girls' Chorus, the band furnished a musical program for the March meeting of the Central-Edison P.T.A. The next big event was the Spring Concert on May 3, at which time the band gave a variety of musical selections. The band concluded the year with a number of musical selections for Commencement Exercises.

A clarinet quartet was composed of Lucille Nelson, Doris Gray, Sharon Carmody, and Norma Crowley. Sweaters were awarded to the graduating seniors: De Yette Goetze, Clifton McChesney, Ruth Baker, and James Sievern. Band officers were as follows: president, Earl Cooper; vice-president, James Sievern; secretary-treasurer, Ruth Baker.

GIRLS' CHORUS

Under the direction of Miss Ardashier this year, the Girls' Chorus, composed of forty-nine voices, furnished entertainment for the Central-Edison-P.T.A. Carnival, the Annual Band Boosters Tea, the March meeting of the P.T.A., the Spring Concert on May 3, and Baccalaureate Services at the close of the school year.

On April 13, the members of the Girls' Chorus journeyed to Valparaiso to enter the Northern Indiana School Band, Orchestra and Vocal Association Contest.

Miss Ardashier organized a Girls Sextette with Betty Lou Hickey, Mattie Frazier, Sylvia Rogers, Joan Ginter, Armida Faupel, and Sharon Carmody. They made their first public appearance at the Band Boosters Tea with an arrangement of "Chloe."

The boys of Edison were given a new opportunity this year when Miss Ardashier organized a Boys' Chorus.

Marvin Horine, first tenor; Lester Hasse, second tenor; Wesley Arington, first bass; and Eugene Riggins, second bass, were chosen to make up a male quartet.

SENIOR PLAY

Although the audience did not quite die, it certainly got its money's worth of laughs when the seniors, under the able direction of Miss Ardashier, presented their class play entitled "You'll Die Laughing," a three-act mystery comedy, on April 10.

The performance opened with a handful of heirs meeting on a stormy night in weird old Creepy Castle to hear the reading of an eccentric will, and to hunt for the precious star sapphire. Bridget, the comical Irish housekeeper, warned all to leave, for anybody who remained all night in Creepy Castle was sure to "Die Laughing." The heirs refused to move, after which ghostly things started to happen. The place was fairly alive with spooks, including a phantom cat! Portraits sobbed real salt tears! Typewriters were manipulated by invisible hands! The ghost girl gurgled and groaned! Somebody disappeared, somebody was strangled, and somebody "Died Laughing!"

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY

"Cows! Jewels! Dogs! Soap, that washes clothes and removes wrinkles simultaneously!" Yes, that's only a few of the things upon which the junior play, "Socially Ambitious," was based. People laughed so hard that their chairs actually fell from under them during the performance of the play on January 22.

It seemed that the Caldwell family moved to an elite district to become a family of high social standing. Quite a row arose when they had a cow, then did not have one for the auction. But the predicament came to a climax when they found a second cow, that, in turn, found the lost jewels, which were returned to the Caldwells.

On the memorable day of February 15, 1946, Peter Shakula of Edison, won the sectional American Legion Oratorical Contest. The meet was held in Crown Point where he was a crowning victor over his two opponents. His speech was again voiced at the district contest in Whiting on March 4, 1946.

A Certificate of Honor was presented by the National Tuberculosis Association to the Eagle Feathers, Edison High School, East Gary, Indiana, in recognition and appreciation of its contribution to a better understanding of tuberculosis and of the role the Christmas Seal plays in the prevention and control of this disease. This honor was made possible by the article "Christmas Seals Protect Health" which was submitted to the Eagle Feathers by Marie Munro.

Frances Mayer and Manley Minard represented Edison High School as contestants in the State High School Latin Contest. The contest took place at Valparaiso University on Saturday, April 13, 1946.
